Our Town

By J. B. White

PUBLISHER'S NOTICE

The office and plant of The Cameron Herald will be closed Saturday November 11, Armistice Day, in accordance with its established policy of celebrating the National Holiday. The publisher and associates will celebrate the Fifteenth Anniversary of the signing of the Armistice ending the World War on November 11, 1918. The Herald will be open on Monday morning, November 13. Armistice Day should be celebrated on the date it occurs and not a day convenient to merchandising. This newspaper along with many other patriotic enterprises will suspend business for the day 15 years ago that restored peace to the world and hope to humanity.

—The Publisher.

An example of the practical results of operation under codes of fair competition was afforded in the adoption of the cotton-textile industry of regulations limiting the purchase of productive equipment. The intent, as expressed in the application to the National Recovery Administration for approval, was (1) to prevent unwarranted expansion of plant facilities and (2) to place no obstacle to the purchase of equipment for replacement purposes or for purpose of bringing plants into balance. Here was registered the will of a great industry long burdened with much producing capacity to get rid of abuses that caused tremendous waste and profitless operations.

In the early stages of the administration of the National Industrial Recovery Act there was an occasional expression of fear that the plan of absorbing in industry as many as possible of the unemployed might retard purchase of new machinery, with consequent injury to the capital goods industry and its millions of workers in normal times. On the contrary, as Division Administrator Malcolm Muir of the NRA told the Machine Tool Builders Association, "the manufacturers in the cotton-textile industry must purchase machinery for replacement purposes. Their equipment has deteriorated seriously during the last few years, as figures for machinery sales will strikingly reveal," and Mr. Muir continued:

"The significance of this point to the manufacturer in that industry, and the same applies to coal and any industry, rests in the fact that with wage chislers restrained he now has a chance once more to secure a premium on efficient management, efficient methods, and an efficient plant. During the dreary years of cut-throat competition, while the pressure for lower costs was ever present, progressive management lived under the constant threat that any capital investment it might make in equipment to modernize productive methods and so reduce costs could be wiped out over night by a competitor who posted a notice of wage reduction. Under such threats companies postponed investments in machinery."

Which aptly illustrates the President's purpose in eliminating workers' wages as the principal item of competition by means of uniform hours and uniform rates of pay in each unit of every industry.

J. C. Joseph to Discuss World Truces Friday At Waco Meeting

Murrell's Accuser

Here is Blanche Ralls, beautiful 31 year old red-head, snapped in the Federal court in San Antonio shortly after postponement of the hearing for Lieut. John H. Murrell of Fort Sam Houston, who is charged with attacking her within the confines of the military reservation. Murrell, an All-American football star at West Point, claims he is innocent.

HIGHWAY FUNDS FROM STATE APPROPRIATED

Judge Jeff T. Kemp has been notified by the State Highway department of an appropriation of $140,000 in funds for the road through Cameron and to the Elm Creek bridge. This appropriation covers construction in the city and north to the creek on Highway 44.

Actual construction work still waits action of the court in getting right of way for the department at Austin. This is the first definite action reported on the public works projects applied for.

NEGRO DENIED REVIEW IN LOCAL MURDER CASE

AUSTIN, Nov. 8.—Four persons sentenced to death in the electric chair at the state penitentiary at Huntsville were denied another review of their cases today by the Texas court of criminal appeals. The convictions were upheld when the cases were originally presented.

The cases were those of Clarence Booker, Milam county negro, convicted of murder; Tom Cook and Ira Kelly of Harris county, convicted of criminal assault, and Paul Mitchell, Lubbock county, convicted of robbery with firearms.

Booker was sentenced to death for the murder of Andy Smith, Cameron merchant. Smith's body, beaten with a hatchet, was found in his place of business.

BURKHART INDICTED FOR THORNDALE MURDER

The Williamson county grand jury which had met in a two day session last Thursday and Friday and returned bills of indictment against W. D. Burkhardt, Thorndale cafe owner, here late last Friday for the murder of Henry James, of Thorndale. Jurisdiction in the case was given Williamson county because of the fact that the boy died in a hospital at Taylor, Williamson county. Evidence secured by state rangers, who made arrests in the case, was turned over to the Williamson county authorities, as was also the prisoner, who still is in the county jail here, having made no request for bond up to this date.—Georgetown Sun.

Slain Dallas Woman Was Former Cameron Girl

Accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of her husband brought instant death of Mrs. Dorothy Woolley, 20, of 5719 Ellsworth, East Dallas, Sunday morning. She was struck once in the chest, just above the heart, by a single charge of shot.

T. G. Woolley, the husband, returned home Saturday night from a duck hunting trip in East Texas. At the time of the accident he was seated in the bedroom of the home cleaning the gun. Mrs. Woolley was lounging on the bed near by and beside her was Miss Nona Woolley, sister of Mr. Woolley.

Believing the gun to be unloaded Mr. Woolley was cleaning the gun barrel with an oil cloth when he touched the trigger, causing a single shell to discharge.

Grief-stricken and in a highly nervous condition from the shock, Mr. Woolley was placed under the care of a physician.

Woolley instantly. She was dead on arrival of emergency ambulance. An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental homicide returned by Justice of the Peace E. John Baldwin.

The couple had been married only since last August, having recently moved into their new home on Ellsworth avenue. Mrs. Woolley was a native of Cameron, Milam county. She was educated in the public schools of her home town and at the University of Texas. For the last 5 years she has made her home in Dallas.

Surviving are her husband, her mother, Mrs. Esther Joyner; a brother, R. E. Joyner, all of Dallas, and two uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Albee Beasley of Salina and Mr. and Mrs. Huling Means of El Paso.

Funeral services were held at the residence at 2 p. m. Monday, Dr. L. N. D. Wells officiating. Burial followed at Restland Memorial Park.

Mrs. T. G. Woolley, formerly Dorothy Joyner, was the only daughter of the late John W. Joyner and Mrs. Esther Joyner. She was born and reared in Cameron.

ANNUAL DINNER WILL BE SERVED SOLDIERS

Armistice Day—the Fifteenth anniversary of the ending of the World War, will be observed in Cameron Saturday, November 11 by former soldiers co-operating with the Legion Post.

Merchants in Cameron, it was said at the offices of the Retail Merchants Association, would close Monday.

The Legion was progressing with plans to serve the annual dinner at noon Saturday.

The program will be as usual with the men observing a minute of reverence and salute. The line of marchers will form down town for the march to the Legion building where free dinner will be served.

John Sapp, Post Commander, was arranging a speaking and musical program for the dinner hour. In the afternoon a Donkey ball game will be played between Milam and Cameron Posts at Lawless Green Field.

Mrs. B. P. Matocha will have charge of the Legion dinner, a service she has rendered for a number of years.

Heads Texas Camps

Here is Brigadier General Chas. R. Rowland, commander of the famous Second Division of Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio, who is also in charge of all the Civilian Conservation Corps or "tree army" camps under his command.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Davis of Ft. Worth, were week end visitors of her brother, County Clerk Homer Nabours and family. Mrs. Davis was formerly Miss Paratie Nabours and lived in Cameron.

Fifteen Years

Hallowed Fields,
Imperishable of Memory,
Have been rich with wheat
These Fifteen Years
Red Poppies carpet hillside
Beneath which old Passions
Sleep forever.

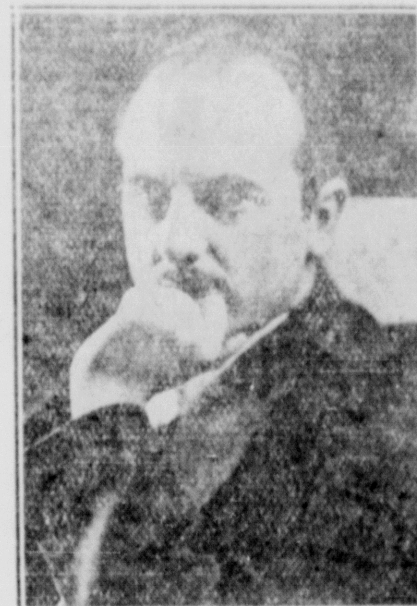

A new Generation is growing up,
Schooled in the arts of Peace.
The world forgets and it is well that it is so.
But always at the Eleventh Hour
On the Eleventh Day
Of the Eleventh Month . . . .
Like Mists of the Dawn
The Shadowy Legions March.

Red November leaves are falling down
To the sheer brown Earth,
And Autumn winds follow the path
Of hazy Skies
Now taunting with somber colors
And Mellow Light
The fierce anger of Summer's big red sun.

Out of the East they come in unnumbered thousands,
They are the Hosts of Memory.
For one moment they pass in review,
And in that moment,
In their Honor,
The Nation stands at Salute.
And it will ever be so.

—J. B. White.

CAMERON AND ROCKDALE TO PLAY UNDER LIGHTS

The annual football clash between Cameron and Rockdale which makes a part of the annual Armistice Day Celebration will be staged under the lights in Cameron Friday night.

The game was scheduled to be played in Rockdale but was transferred to Cameron at the request of the Rockdale authorities because of Cameron's lighting facilities.

Since Armistice Day falls on Saturday it was not thought advisable to play the game on that day. With the promise of fair weather this game is certain to draw a record crowd.

Followers of the Rockdale Tigers say that they are coming over to win and it cannot be denied upon Rockdale's record in District 15 that they have the best football team in the history of the Rockdale High school. They are still undefeated in district games. There is, however, a grim determination on the part of the Yoemen squad which seems to say that there will at least be a two sided contest. It will be a great occasion.

Rockdale fans say that the Regal city will be a deserted village on Friday night and a large delegation is expected from Rogers, Rosebud and Calvert as well as other towns in Milam County. The two rival pep squads promise some interesting stunts between the halves.

WOOD ALCOHOL POISONING

Dr. William J. Scholes

Wood alcohol—chemically known as methyl alcohol in distinction to grain or ethyl alcohol—has for years been employed in the arts and industries and has been responsible for many cases of fatal poisoning.

Prohibition of legal manufacture of alcoholic beverages has resulted in their illegal manufacture. And with poor materials and equipment has come the distillation of liquor not only poor but poisonous, because of its wood alcohol content. Many bottles with colorful labels are no guarantee of their contents, and may be accepted as a settled fact that 99 per cent of all liquor on the market today is worthless. As a result cases of wood alcohol poisoning have multiplied enormously since the advent of prohibition.

Symptoms of Wood Alcohol Poisoning

The earliest constant symptoms are weakness, dimness of vision and nausea. Accompanying these disturbances there may be pronounced thirst (for water), pains in the back, headache and shortness of breath. The face is deeply flushed, even purplish. There may also be dizziness, ringing in the ears, and in bad cases delirium.

The reason that methyl alcohol acts so differently from ethyl alcohol is a matter of oxidation. Ethyl alcohol is largely burned up in the system the same as are ordinary foodstuffs, only a small proportion being excreted by the eliminative organs (lungs, skin, bowels, kidneys). Methyl alcohol, on the contrary, is oxidized very slowly and imperfectly. Half of a given dose will eventually be eliminated through the lungs instead of being burned up as would be an equal amount of ethyl alcohol. Moreover, the elimination of wood alcohol is a very slow process, continuing sometimes for an entire week. As a result of this combination—imperfect oxidation and tardy elimination—the poison remains in the system a long time during which it produces its harmful effects.

It appears that the toxin has a special affinity for nervous tissue which would account for the prominence of nervous symptoms in cases of poisoning. The effects of the poison exhibit themselves very rapidly in some instances, so that the victim in the space of a few hours becomes blind and delirious.

Treatment of Wood Alcohol Poisoning

Treatment is usually of little avail. A severe case of wood alcohol poisoning has a gloomy outlook. This does not mean, of course, that the prospect is necessarily hopeless. Prompt proper and persistent attention will save a certain percentage.

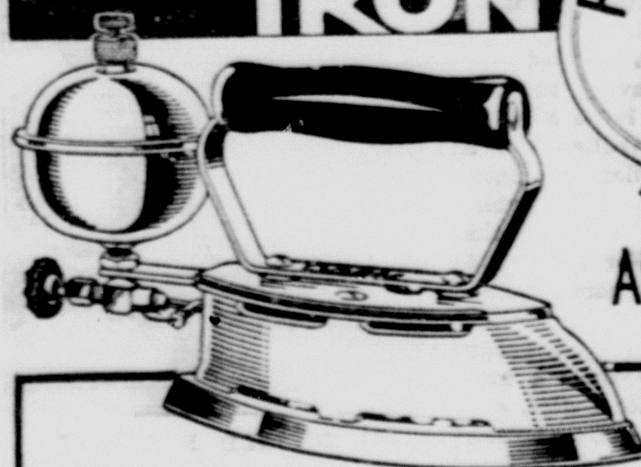

But, as in so many afflictions, an ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure. And in this particular instance the preventive measure is self evident. Don't drink!

Mr. Streetman was one of the state's most prominent attorneys and had been associated with the legal profession for more than 40 years. For two years, from 1902 to 1904, he served as associate justice of the Third Court of Civil Appeals in Austin.

He was born January 14, 1870, in Cameron, Texas, where his father was a successful merchant. His mother, Louisa Green Streetman, was a native of Texas and the daughter of George Green, who served as a private in the Texas army at the battle of San Jacinto.

Mr. Streetman received his early education in the public schools of Cameron. He took a master of arts degree at Southwestern University in 1888, read law in the office of Judge T. S. Henderson in Cameron, and was admitted to the bar in April, 1889.

Moving to Houston in 1904, he first was associated with Thomas H. Ball and Frank Andrews under the firm name of Andrews, Ball & Streetman. The firm later became Andrews, Streetman, Logue & Mobley, one of the largest and most influential legal establishments in the state.

Mr. Streetman was active in many famous cases in Texas. His firm represented James A. ## Black-Draught Clears Up Sluggish, Dull Feeling

"I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for constipation for a long time, and find it gives relief for this trouble," writes Mrs. Frank Champion, of Wynne, Ark. "I think it is good for spells caused from gas on the stomach. If I get up in the morning feeling dull and sluggish, a dose of Black-Draught taken three times a day will cause the feeling to pass away, and in a day or two I feel like a new person. After many years of use we would not exchange Black-Draught for any medicine."

an interest in its activities.

Caught in Storm

He narrowly escaped death in the hurricane of August, 1932, when he was caught out in a small boat with W. E. Hamilton and other friends on the way home from a fishing trip to the lower Texas coast.

He also was a member of the Houston Club, the Houston Country Club and the University Club.

In December, 1892, Mr. Streetman was married to Miss Flora McIver, daughter of Col. E. J. McIver of Cameron.

Surviving, in addition to his widow are two sons, Sam, Jr., an accountant associated with the Hughes Tool Company, and William McIver Streetman, attorney, practicing with the firm of Andrews, Streetman, Logue & Mobley; three daughters, Mrs. H. O. Clarke, Jr., Mrs. Marion L. Lindsey and Mrs. Thomas J. Lawhon, and four grandchildren, all of Houston.

NEGRO FARMERS SHOW IMPROVED METHODS

The second annual agricultural exhibit conducted under Cooperative Extension Service in Milam county, was held Friday and Saturday, October 20 and 21. The exhibit showed great improvement over the first, having twelve communities to enter community booths while in 1932 only five entered. Nearly every community in the county entered farm and home products under the individual list, which shows good prospects for our fair in 1934.

The communities that entered booths were: Prospect, winning first place; Two Mile, winning second place; Maysfield, winning third place. Others: Minerva, Coxies, Davilla, Beals Chapel, Rockdale, Branchville, Cameron and Buckholts. The most outstanding feature in the community exhibits was the backgrounds; all were of uniform size, five by six feet, made strictly of farm products, such as cotton seed, corn on the cob, shelled corn, grain sorghum seed, turnip, rape and mustard seed, cotton and burs, ripe and green pepper and many other garden and farm products arranged in beautiful and artistic designs on various colored cardboards. The backgrounds displayed meanings of such expressions as: "Diversified Farming," "Live at Home," "Food and Feed for Family and Livestock" and "Raise and Save" as well as an organized effort of doing things.

There was a great deal of interest in the 4-H club boys department, in their contest of making miniature farm devices. The Vo Ag. Boys under the direction of Prof. M. Sanders Vocational Agricultural teacher, displayed a very interesting booth of work done in their farm shop work. The most outstanding and interesting feature of the display was a thought conveyed to the farmers of the county by a large balance, one side of which was filled with neatly made small bales of cotton, the other contained a cow, a hog, some poultry, grain, garden products and such things that go to make a complete living on the farm. The side of the balance that held the cotton was the heavier, and at the top of the beam the words "OUT OF BALANCE" were printed. Many farmers, both white and colored who visited the fair discussed this display with much interest.

To have our fair reach further out in the county, the three community booths were displayed Saturday, October 28 in show windows of stores in or near their communities. Prospect, displayed in Milano. Two Mile displayed in Gause, and Maysfield in Maysfield. The county agent had asked the communities to make these displays, and when he visited the places Saturday he found crowds of both white and colored people viewing the exhibits with as much interest as if each was the whole fair exhibited a week ago.

Our fair was visited by Prof. C. H. Waler, State Leader of Negro Extension Work; Mrs. Iola W. Rowan, District Agent of Home Demonstration Work, both of Prairie View; Mrs. Poffie Allen Conner, Assistant District Agent of Home Demonstration Work, Waco; Prof. J. H. Williams, Boy Club Advisor, Cameron; Miss Janice B. Morgan, Home Agent, Falls County; J. W. Smith, County Agent of Falls County and J. V. Smith, County Agent, McLennan County, who served as judges.

The Milam county Agent hopes that all farmers will keep in mind that now is the time to start making preparations for the fair in 1934. Quality products and good backgrounds will be features stressed. A loving cup will be awarded to the community that wins the blue ribbon three years in succession.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tucker and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walker of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. De Cos and two children, John, Jr., and Veralice of Houston and Mrs. Thelma Stanton of Houston were week end guests of Mrs. Vada Walters. Mrs. Stanton formerly lived in Cameron.

RED CROSS NEED IS A PRESSING PROBLEM

While rapid strides toward recovery have been made in many sections of the country during recent months, local chapter officers of the American Red Cross urge that the public not be forgetful of the millions still unable to shift for themselves.

L. Van Perkins, in announcing the organization's annual Roll Call, to be conducted between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving, considers it is now more important than ever that the citizenship respond to the humanitarian call for support, not only to make it possible for the Red Cross to help others help themselves in times of economic stress, but to insure the future of the agency's normal activities which, after all, will mean more lasting contributions to the thousands of communities it serves.

Yoemen In Surprise Reversal Lose Friday Night Game To Rosebud Roses

Led by the spectacular ball carrying of Pace, Box and Hesse, a fighting band of Rosebud Roses beat the Cameron Yoemen on their own field Friday night by a 25-6 score.

The first half ended in a 6-6 tie, but the Roses had roundly outplayed the Yoemen. Cameron's only consolation was the brilliant 35 yard end run for a touchdown by Captain Terry.

Rosebud scored seven first downs to three for Cameron. Punting was difficult for both teams, due to the wet ball, but both Breeding and Pace got off some good ones under those conditions. Rosebud gained far more yards from scrimmage.

The wet field held down the passes throughout the game, however, Rosebud completed three out of the five they attempted. Cameron completed one out of four.

Matching the offense play of the Roses, Box and Wright starred on the defense. Box blocked a Cameron punt on the 18 yard line to pave the way for Pace's jaunt for another touchdown. His interception of a pass on the 35 yard line in the last quarter also gave the roses a good break. Wright played a stellar game both on the offense and the defense.

Pace started the Roses' scoring with a 20 yard run off tackle for a tally. He scored another in the fourth. Hesse and Box scored the other two.

Eickenhorst and Blaylock did the best defensive work of the Cameron team, but their efforts could not hold the Roses who were playing good ball all the way.

The starting line-ups: Rosebud—ends, Wright and Muecke; tackles, Murphy and Kapps; guards, A. Olbrich and Parrot; center, Gibbs; quarter, Pace; halves, Hesse and Box; full, Helpert.

Cameron: ends—Graham and Gillis; tackles, Branstetter and Avriett; guards, Mode and Blocker; center, Blaylock; quarter, Breeding; halves, Gillis and Kirk; full, Terry (C).

Your telephone is worth the few cents a day it costs in convenience, in time and steps saved. This is the month when the occasional cold blast, and perhaps a snow flurry, foretell the winter soon to come. And when we see nuts, oranges and apples in the market instead of the more delicate peaches, pears and plums. Also the seasonal odor of burning leaves mingles with that of spices when the forehanded housewife is preparing her mince meat for the luscious pie served at Thanksgiving dinner.

Doesn't the thought of it make your mouth water?

Do you remember how we used to stand around, as Buddy and Sister do now, waiting for the "licks" that were left in the mixing bowl?

And then, the wonderful pumpkin mother cooked for pies—for we always had both mince and pumpkin pies for Thanksgiving?

What fun it was to have all the relations come for the day. And then weren't we on "tenter-hooks" though trying to behave as we were told, till dinner was served?

Thanksgiving is the one day of the year in which the dinner is outstanding. Other holidays have other important features which make the feast secondary but this day the dinner is THE celebration.

Texas Looks Like Winner After SMU Game

This bit of action was caught by the cameraman during the standing Southwest Conference game Saturday, when Texas beat Southern Methodist university in Dallas by a score of 10 to 0. Texas, undefeated in the conference, has only Arkansas to contend with now in the race for the title, and has the added advantage of playing the Forkers in Austin.

Mrs. Ferguson of Austin, mother of Mr. Campbell came down here Saturday to see the new baby and her only grand child.

Mrs. Dan Robinson and Miss Pearl Pinkerton visited in Thorndale Saturday.

Miss Ruby Steveson has been suffering with an infected jaw lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Butts of Thorndale spent Sunday here with Mrs. Butts mother, Mrs. J. B. Newton.
